

Annotation

Ethics in Selected Spheres of Economy and their Impact upon Social Field

This thesis deals with the importance of ethics in economy. Its goal is to reflect and critically evaluate economic principles. It focuses on chosen aspects of economic thinking and its effect on society. The theoretical part is also completed with specific examples of negative sociocultural phenomenon. The study is analysis of Czech and foreign literature relevant for given theme. This thesis is divided into four chapters. The first chapter deals with solutions of ethical and philosophical-anthropological nature. The second chapter contains key concepts of economic thinking. Specific factors that have a negative social impact are named in this part. The third chapter defined space for interdisciplinary approach and delimited role of main regulators of society. The last chapter describes the social state as an institution trying to unite social and economic goals. It further describes the development of the social state and introduces its current problems caused by economic influences. Base on conclusions of axiology researches there are discussed changes of value in the Czech public towards social measures. The output of this theoretical work is the presentation of ethical principles in interdisciplinary connections.

Key words

Ethics, anthropology, welfare state, economy